Another award for Dosher smoke eradication effort

The North Carolina Nurses Association has recognized the Dosher Memorial Surgical Suite for implementing a program that eliminates surgical smoke from the Dosher operating rooms. At the NCNA annual meeting this fall, the department earned the award for “Best practice in the dimension of ‘Caring for each other.’”

This is the third award the past two years for this program that improves the health and safety of patients, OR staff and surgeons. Read more about Dosher health and wellness services at www.Dosher.org.

What do the White House, Walter Reed National Military Medical Center, and the Mayo Clinic have in common with Dosher? Telemedicine...a leading-edge technology that allows specially trained physicians to examine and participate in the diagnosis and treatment of patients through the use of video and audio conferencing via secure, digital connection.

Yes, our 25-bed, critical access hospital is at the forefront of healthcare in the U.S. In December, the hospital is set to implement telemedicine...a leading-edge technology that allows specially trained physicians to examine and participate in the diagnosis and treatment of patients through the use of video and audio conferencing via secure, digital connection.

trusted hometown setting. This is improving the patient experience and augment the staff and provide an additional service is a growing trend among rural hospitals and it looks to be great fit at Dosher. To be clear, telemedicine does not take the place of Dosher physicians. We are proud of the high-quality care, and the care they provide to our community. Telemedicine will augment the staff and provide an additional level of care to patients. This is another way that your hospital provides to our community.
